

Greenwalt is Agribusiness Person of the Year

Dr. Bert Greenwalt, professor of agricultural economics, was recognized last week by the Jonesboro Regional Chamber of Commerce. Greenwalt, who directed the 31st annual Agribusiness Conference at A-State earlier this month, received the 2025 Agribusiness Person of the Year Award. He was joined at the ceremony by fellow alumnus Gary Sitzler, 2025 Farmer of the Year and former classmate, and four members of the A-State Agribusiness Club.
