

Readnour is Latest PROPS Award Winner

Corey Readnour, meats lab manager, College of Agriculture, has been named as the latest recipient of the Proudly Recognizing our Pack Staff (PROPS) Award. The PROPS Award program is administered by a subcommittee of the Staff Senate, with recipients selected from a pool of candidates created from the PROPS nomination form. Read more online about Readnour, his work in the meats lab, the snack sticks they make for children, and student workers' involvement.